

Power to Panel

A power to panel permit that is issued from this office to a contractor or owner is for construction only. It is to allow full power to the building for testing of electrical systems, such as lighting, heating, air-conditioning equipment, elevators, emergency systems, etc. This permit does not allow occupancy of the building, home or condominium, or portions thereof. Occupancy of a building is allowed only after all final building, electrical, plumbing and mechanical inspections are made and completed and a Certificate of Occupancy issued.

Violation of any code, zoning ordinance or engineering requirement such as building, electrical, mechanical, plumbing, sprinklers or fire, street or curb and gutter requirements that are not corrected or resolved shall result in the disconnect of electrical services from premises.

I, the undersigned, do hereby understand and agree to all of the above and hereby release Davis County Corp. and Rocky Mountain Power Company from any liability of the connecting or disconnecting of electrical service.
