Detour note: Due to a live Union Pacific rail, the rail trail dead ends at the Union Pacific spur in the Freeport Center. Signs are posted on the trail with the suggested re-routes. Following are the directions: Heading north-the rail trail dead ends approximately 1/2 mile north of the intersection of 700 South and Main Street. To continue north and resume on the trail, head north on Main Street and follow the road to 200 South. Head west on 200 South where you can pick up the trail again at approximately 513 West. The trail will take you to the border of Clinton and Roy. Heading south-the rail trail dead ends approximately 1/4 mile south of 200 South. To continue south and to resume on the trail, head east on 200 South. Turn right just before starting over the Center Street overpass; this will take you to Main Street. Head south on Main Street until you reach the intersection of 700 South and Main.

Length: 21.75 miles
Time: 3 to 8 hours up and back
