Davis County Board of Health Changes Announced

(Farmington, Utah) – The Davis County Board of Health welcomed Ronald B. Garrison as the new board chair at the quarterly meeting held January 12th.

The Board of Health serves in an advisory and policy-making role for the Davis County Health Department. Garrison assumed his one-year position beginning January 2010. During 2009 he held the vice chair's position and previously served as the board's chair in 2006.

According to Garrison, "Our Board of Health continues to address important health issues affecting Davis County residents. I'm proud of the way our board members study these public health concerns, listen to citizen comments, and weigh the facts to make their informed decisions." Recently, Garrison played a key role in helping Davis County's health department launch its effort to hold numerous H1N1 mass vaccination clinics that administered more than 70,000 vaccines to county residents. Garrison is the President and CEO of U.S. Recruiting in Kaysville.

This year's vice chair is Ben Tanner. Davis County Commissioner Bret Millburn serves as a member of the board along with Dr. Warren Butler, Dr. Gary Alexander, Dr. Colleen Taylor, Brent Petersen, Ann Benson, and Brian Cook. Lewis Garrett, director of the Davis County Health Department, serves as the non-voting Executive Secretary of the board.
