COMMISSION MEETING MINUTES

January 5, 2021

The Board of Davis County Commissioners met for their regularly scheduled meeting at 4:00 p.m. on January 5, 2021, in room 303 of the Davis County Administration Building, 61 South Main Street, Farmington, Utah. Required legal notice of this meeting was given.

Present on the dais were: Commissioner Bob J Stevenson, Chair; Commissioner Randy B. Elliott, Vice-Chair; and Commissioner Lorene Miner Kamalu. Also in attendance: Curtis Koch, Davis County Clerk/Auditor; and Neal Geddes, Chief Civil Deputy County Attorney.

All documents from this meeting are on file in the Davis County Clerk/Auditor’s Office. The agenda for this meeting is incorporated into the minutes as item headers.

OPENING

Due to the coronavirus pandemic, special meeting circumstances apply.

In consideration of the COVID-19 pandemic, attendance will be limited to no more than 10 individuals, including Commission and staff. Masks are recommended and all those in attendance will be required to participate in a socially distant manner. Because of the room occupancy limitation, those wishing to watch the meeting are encouraged to do so by viewing the meeting online. Meeting proceedings may be viewed remotely through YouTube live streaming at <https://www.daviscountyutah.gov/commission/meetings>. Those wishing to direct comments to the Commission regarding a public hearing or to make public comment can do so in-person or by emailing comments to commissioners@daviscountyutah.gov by 3 p.m. the day of the meeting.

The meeting convened at 4 p.m., and Commissioner Stevenson mentioned the work being done on the Davis County Administration Building campus. Two-thirds of the old County Courthouse has been torn down and is being hauled away. Hopefully, he said, by year’s end the original portion of the building will be remodeled as a showcase and usable space.

Curtis Koch, Davis County Clerk/Auditor, led the Pledge of Allegiance.

Commissioner Stevenson wished everyone a happy new year, noting that 2020 has been quite an experience for everyone on the planet. The County has dealt with winds, floods, and COVID, he said, but a lot of good things have been accomplished and we’ve learned to come together in different ways that we never would have without those opportunities.

PUBLIC COMMENTS

Members of the public were invited to make comments to the Commission.

Davis Journal newspaper

Becky Ginos was asked by Commissioner Stevenson to speak about the Davis Journal.

Ms. Ginos was a reporter for The Davis Clipper until publication ceased in December of 2020. She said it was sad to see The Clipper end, but Bryan Scott has started a new newspaper called the Davis Journal. He is intending on continuing this as a weekly very similar to The Clipper. His hope is to, in the coming months, also start a monthly that will cover different cities at different times. Ms. Ginos, who now works for the Davis Journal, said its office is at 837 South 500 West [in Bountiful], just down the street from The Clipper.

Appreciation was expressed for the organization stepping up to keep news going out to the people of the County.

Animal Care volunteer information

Information about Animal Care volunteers — Presented by Commissioner Kamalu

Commissioner Stevenson asked Commissioner Kamalu to share information about Animal Care volunteers. Commissioner Kamalu said Animal Care provided a short report to the Commission using collected data on the operations of Animal Care. Volunteers play a big part of Animal Care in the County because animals don't do very well if they're just in a little space without any opportunity for exercise or interaction. There are currently 275 active volunteers, and the total count of volunteers serving in the shelter over the year 2020 was 412. The hours served added up to 4,324; at an hourly rate of $25.43, this is an average of almost $110,000 done by volunteers. Of the volunteer hours, 51 percent were for dogs, 10 percent were for cats, and 0.5 percent were for bunnies. Volunteers helping other volunteers with orientation made up almost 25 percent of the hours, and fostering accounted for 1.4 percent. A single photographer was responsible for 3.7 percent of the hours, which was 147 hours just by that one person. Commissioners are grateful for the volunteers in Davis County.

Request #2021-14 for authorization to seek and contract with a building inspector for a limited time period

Request #2021-14 for authorization to seek and contract with a building inspector for a limited time period — Presented by Kent Andersen, Community & Economic Development Director

A request was made for authorization to seek and contract with a building inspector for a limited time period. Currently, the County is without building inspection services. As an emergency provision, the Community & Economic Development Department asked for authorization to collect at least two bids for building inspection services for the next six months and to contract with those individuals while preparing a new RFP for building inspection and plan examination services.

The Clerk/Auditor was asked if three bids are required or if it would be allowable to get two bids. He answered that there should be a minimum of three bids, if possible. The policy is not there to constrain but for transparency and openness. There are certain instances where there is only a sole source or two, and in that instance departments are expected to show a good faith effort that they've tried to get three bids and then document in a memo that they were only able to receive two. Mr. Anderson said his department would get three bids.

It was stated that there were negotiations with Mr. Hansen for a new contract and it was turned down, and that's why the County is looking elsewhere.

It is made up of five [seven] individuals who serve a maximum of two full terms of four years. This individual has served one partial and one full term, and is happy to do an additional term since she hasn't served two full terms. [The term is 02/01/2021 to 01/31/2025.]

Amendment #2020-487-A with Hogan & Associates for guaranteed maximum price for the construction of the Jail medical wing project — Presented by Mitch Matern, Justice Complex Maintenance Manager

An amendment to a contract with Hogan & Associates was introduced. The County has worked with Hogan and the architectural firm, with the CMGC process, and has come to a guaranteed maximum price for the Jail Medical Unit. The guaranteed maximum price is $7,297,989. This is wonderful news for the County in that it had a fixed construction limit of $8.2 million, so it is coming in well under that fixed limit for construction. The Corrections Department is very excited to move forward with this project.

It was noted that Mitch Matern has been with the County for a long time and knows the jail in and out. He has found many efficiencies and has made it a quality location for inmates. His work is appreciated.

COMMISSION COMMENTS

COM. ELLIOTT

Commissioner Elliott noted that the Health Department has a mobile clinic at the Legacy Events Center. The first wave [to get COVID-19 vaccines] is emergency responders. Online registration is currently open for those who are in the medical field. The second wave will be those in education. They'll get the vaccine in their vehicle and pull right through, kind of like the drive-thru voting Curtis Koch did for the elections, which was very successful.

Commissioner Elliott also spoke of the Courthouse remodel. Workers knocked down the back two thirds of the building this past week and are cleaning it up. They'll be backfilling in the coming weeks, and then we'll start seeing progress and the restoration of the original 1920s Courthouse up front. It has been very exciting to see that happening. It's 2021 and Commissioners look forward to a good year and moving forward with a lot of projects – it's an exciting time for the County.

COM. KAMALU

Commissioner Kamalu provided some background information about the use of the Legacy Events Center Arena for drive-thru vaccinations. Before Commissioner Stevenson and Commissioner Kamalu were elected, Commissioners were trying to figure out how to be supportive of the horse community and the County's agricultural heritage at the Fairgrounds; however, in the last decade-plus there's been huge demand for big events on a hard-surface floor. Years ago the County purchased, and has been using, a temporary floor that goes down for the hard surface events in the Legacy Events Center Arena, but it would take a hundred man-hours to turn it back into the dirt floor events. It was a very challenging dilemma for this Commission to figure out the current and future best use of that very valuable property. With a lot of work, input, and people collaborating, the Commission determined to start a process to partner with Utah State Extension. Progress should be seen this spring on an outdoor arena on the [USU Extension] property in Kaysville, and there's already work toward an indoor arena on that property, where it will be more protected and continue the heritage of agriculture and the uses that have occurred in the Legacy Events Center Arena.

In the nick of time, a concrete floor went into the Legacy Arena. Commissioners did not know, when those decisions had to be made, that there would be a huge need for it in order to hold safe and efficient elections during a pandemic. That floor cured just in time for elections to be drive-thru and now it's being used for safe and efficient mass vaccinations.

"I just feel like we've been really blessed with a collaboration and a lot of good input to come to a decision that has turned out to be pretty remarkable to help our citizens in 2020 and beyond," Commissioner

COMMISSIONERS' MINUTES – DAVIS COUNTY

Kamalu said, adding that everyone makes the best decisions they can when they can't predict the future. "But it's not lost on us, the timing and how this has worked out to help our County – it's been a really great thing."

It's a very unique facility, where people can drive through and so much can be done in a large space with a protected arena. The County is fortunate to have that asset, she said, thanking all who have been visionary and supported this change.

COM. STEVENSON

Commissioner Stevenson reminded everyone that the schedule has changed to every other Tuesday, so the next regular Commission Meeting will be two weeks from today at 4 p.m. There will still be a Work Session next week.
